The governor headed a west coast group at a meeting with State Secretary Byrnes. Afterward he told reporters he had related that Russian fishermen had moved in where Japanese had left off and he feared old disputes between rival fishing groups might flare anew.

Governor Waligren said the delegation from the States of Washington, Oregon and California had asked Mr. Byrnes for "highest level" consideration of the situation.

"We had four troubles with the Japanese and now the question may arise with the Russians as to how far they are to go and how far we can go," Governor Wallgren told a reporter.

U.N.'s search for a new home was drawing more attention than a horse race. As the entries went to the post last week, bookies tried to figure the odds. As the favorities champed at the barrier, New York's Mayor Bill O'Dwyer rushed up with another dark horse: an international sky-scraper city to be built in the midst of Manhattan. By this week the smart money was riding on Eastern colors. But some bookies would call off the whole how, pare down the field for a final running next year.

OUR THRONE TOO

Edmonton Bulletin The application of Prince Philip of Greece for British citizenship gives further impetus to the rumor that this young man is destined to be husband of Princess Elizabeth.

This runior may be totally false. But because the Canadian people are vitally interested in the British monarchy, since it is the Canadian monarchy too, they should consider the implications of the story very carefully.

Prince Philip of Greece may bean admirable young man. One has heard nothing to the contrary. But most Canadians will not regard with any great approbation the Hohenzollern back-ground of his ancestry.

MISINFORMED

The Beaver Magazine When the "Nascopie" returned to Montreal this year, one of the local newspapers made the amaz-ing statements: that her holds were filled with silver fox skins and that the "white man's woman" would pay $400 for each of these, which the Eskimos had sold for a measly $20. This is of course pure balderdash — and is on a par with that ancient but hardy perennial about the old fur traders debauching the Indians and buying their furs for a song. A typical example of this apghteenth century, when an Indian trapper bartered his winter's catch for a blanket and a bottle of cheap and extremely intoxicating spirits was a lucra-Depreciation of existing resi- mentary evidence.

HAROLD E. STASSEN wants progressive program

WASHINGTON (AP)-Harold E. Stassen, 39-year-old former Governor of Minnesota, served notice today on the old guard in his party that he will seek the Republican Presidential nomine tion in 1948.

Making this announcement, he said he would present a "definite constructive and progressive' program and work with Repub lican majorities in Congress to steer the party along a "truly liberal path."

His main interest at first, he said, would be to develop new labor legislation based on "voluntary" methods to prevent strikes but seeking to "break up monopolies and dictatorships" in unions. He mentioned the United Mine Workers in this particular and said that if the coal miners had taken a secret ballot, as he favors, there would have been no coal strike.

Stassen's announcement came Stassen's announcement came, shortly after Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan had announced he would not be a candidate for the Republican Presidential presidential presidential presidential presidential. dential nomination.

Both Vandenberg and Senator Robert A. Taff of Ohio now have said they are not candidates, but they have left the door open for

Steps To Avoid Holiday Fires

City Fire Chief Joseph Raymond today called for support from residents of five precautions against fire over the holf-"Christmas trees and decora tions are major fire hazards. Care must be taken if a merry Chirst-mas is not to be turned into a time of 'tragedy," the chief said. He listed the five precautions as follows: Keep Christmas trees fireproof and at the same time fresh by cutting off butt at an angle at least an inch above the original cut, and place the but in a container of water.

Keep trees away from stoves, radiators or other sources of heat. Do not use candles for decorations on trees. Use only electric lights and keep them away from inflammable decorations; also inspect lighting cords. Fuses of proper size should be obtained so that if the system becomes over-loaded, the fuse will blow out, thus avoiding a fire.

Make decorations fireproof in all dance halls, clubs and other places of public safety; also mark

Argentina Gives Meat To Britons

LONDON (AP)-Each of Britain's 40,000,000 citizens next month will receive a gift of meat from Argentina valued at five pence (about 10 cents).

The Food Ministry announced that in the week beginning Jan 12, each purchaser will be given a rebate of five pence when he buys his weekly ration of one shilling four pence.
President Peron of Argentina announced at the signing of the recent Anglo-Argentine agreement that his country would send a meat gift to the British people as a gesture of friendship. Prime Minister Attlee responded with a formal expression of thanks.

The Food Ministry said sup-plies would not allow the use of the meat as an addition to the ration, and devised the rebate scheme. Argentina had hoped the gifts would arrive by Christmas, but this was not possible. the ministry said.

With the bounty on live player talent leaving hardly a corner lot rink hascouted, the necessity of getting there "first with the most" was emphasized today in the plight of the National Hockey League's Chicago Black Hawks. The $100,000 bait that owner Bill Tobin recently dangled for ready-made players to strengthen his last-place team fell on deaf ears. In effect, the other five clubs told him that players were too hard to find these days—they had to be caught young and weaned carefully.

without a home court.

The result was that the Hawks had to be content with one or had to be content with one or two minor trades, in which Orphan Spokane player was traded for player.

If money were the big talking points in professional hockey these days, the Hawks would probably be at the top of the standing instead of the bottom. With the biggest rink in the circuit, gate admission circuit, gate admissions alone from the crowds of 17,000 and

The morning and becoming cloudy in the afternoon.

Winds were light today, but were predicted to reach 30 m.p.h. southwest tomorrow.

The temperature dropped to a low of 30 overnight. The forecast is for milder weather to hight, a 35 minimum. The top reading for Thursday is 40, or four degrees higher than Tuesday's maximum recording. Vancouver Island Coach Lines is maintaining its up-island schedules, although some ley and close packed snow conditions have forced the use of chains.

The 3,457-ton ship is in no danger and is on an even keel.

A survey will be immediately conducted to determine the extent of the damage.

First, however, the coal cargo will have to be removed from the ship's hold, after which the vessel will be drydocked. Chief Mate Konrad L. Helberg, who also acts as radio operator, told of the discovery of the leak in No. 4 hold. He is a Stavanger man with a record of 23 years' sea service.

Survey In Alaska Seeking Source Of Basic Atom Supply

WASHINGTON (AP) - The U.S. Interior Department dis-closed today it is making a closed today it is making a thorough geological search to de-termine whether Alaska may be a source of uranium, the basic material for atomic naterial for atomic energy and

Also under survey are Alaska's potentialities in oil, coal, gold and radium, and means of coping with the construction problem of volcanic activity and permafrost

The survey said in a report that the areas studied and the total number of men employed are being withheld "for security reasons." It gave no hint whether the field workers had dis-covered uranium in worthwhile quantities.

An understanding of how to deal with permafrost is vital in any Alaska construction program of the future, an official said.

He explained:

Among new armored monsters being delivered to the U.S. army is this new tank-type battlewagon, developed by Chrysler Corp. The 63-ton vehicle can be made ready for action in five minutes by backing up and ramming its spade trail into the ground to resist recoil. It's pictured with eight inch rifle, through whose 35-foot, nine inch barrel, a 249-pound shell can be hurled 27 miles. The rifle is interchangeable with a 10-inch howitzer which shoots 360-pound shell 16 miles.

One Woman's Day

LIFE WITHOUT FATHER

IT CAME AS A BIT OF A SHOCK to read that, if certain interests have their way, father may be eliminated from American family life.

That is the conclusion drawn from a recent article in the columns of the Broadcasting Magazine, dealing with the activities of the U.S. National Association of Broadcasters and the Radio Manufacturers' Association.

Said article records the decisions reached by joint subcommittees of the two organizations on the question of what is wrong with radio

"Father" seems to have been the answer which am from their delvings into the place of radio in family life and why there isn't more of it—radio, not family, life, I mean.

PATER AND PROGRAMS

THE TROUBLE WITH PATER, apparently, is that he "hogs" radio and tunes into only one station at a time,

I don't know whether they arrived at that conclusion by means of a poll of papas, but in most of the families I know father doesn't get much chance—at least, not until the younger fry have gone to bed considerably later than the curiew call.

Be that as it may, the N.A.B.R.M.A. committees, are said to be planning to launch a campaign for a radio in every room in the house, thus eliminating the menace of the head of the house who dominates the dial under the single-set system.

SINGLE-SET SYSTEM

THE MAGAZINE ARTICLE quotes John M. Outer Jr., of the. Atlanta radio station as heading the campaign. And he explains the object in the following words:

"We plan to capitalize on the fact that most families miss-lot of fine programming because of divergent listening habits which cannot be reconciled by single-set ownership

"There is too much of this good programming being missed, usually because the most articulate member of the family hears the show that especially pleases him.

"With more than one reasonably-priced set in the home, such as kitchen, bedroom and similar models, more members of the family can and will listen simultaneously to good programs they now hear by accident."

POLITICAL PATTERN

THAT "RADIO IN EVERY ROOM" recalls the old-time political promises that started as "five acres and a cow," progressed to "two chickens in every pot," and which some seem to hope will eventuate as "two cars in every garage."

But while they may have been hard to five up to, the "radio in every room" has them backed off the map as potential dyna-

It would be bad enough living in a house where Pa would be singing in the bath to the tune of "Bathtub Blues," while Mother was getting breakfast to the strains of "Rollywood Breakfast Club," Sister Susy swooning over Sinatra, and Johnny rug-cutting to the lilt of "Doin' What Comes Natcherly."

APARTMENT HOUSE BLUES BUT CAN YOU IMAGINE what it would be like in an apart

D ment house where upstairs and down the neighbors were hard at it?

Fancy listening to a next-door medley of Dinah Shore in the dinette, Liza Lehmann in the living room, "Bunny" Berrigan in the bedroom, and Kay Kayser in the kitchen!

While at the same time your ears were being assailed with a mixture of "The Old Rugged Cross," "Seeing Nellie Home" and "O Dry Those Tears" from across the hall?

No. The only ray of hope I see in the "radio in every roo
